Eight female members of the Hong Kong Academy for Gifted Education (HKAGE) represented Hong Kong at the 12th China Girls Mathematical Olympiad recently. The Team won one silver and seven bronze medals.

The 2013 China Girls Mathematical Olympiad was held from 10-14 August 2012 at Zhenhai High School, Ningbo, China. The eight members were selected after receiving three phrases of Mathematics enrichment programmes co-organised by the HKAGE and International Mathematical Olympiad Hong Kong Committee (IMOHKC). The Education Bureau (EDB) sponsored the delegates' trip.

Dr Stephen Tommis, Executive Director of the HKAGE, said he is pleased about the outstanding performance and results of the student members at CGMO. He hoped the students would continue to develop their interest and go further in the future competitions.

The contest attracted a total of 138 participants who formed 34 teams representing provinces, cities or regions of Mainland China, Hong Kong, Macau, Singapore, Philippines, Russia and Taipei.
